Sasikala granted five-day parole

To walk out of prison today; To meet ailing husband

Bengaluru, Oct. 6 - Expelled AIADMK leader V.K. Sasikala was today granted a five-day parole by Karnataka jail authorities. Sasikala had sought parole to attend to her ailing husband M. Natarajan. Interestingly, the parole comes just two days after authorities rejected her plea on "technical grounds."

She will walk out of Parappana Agrahara Prison in Bengaluru today, nearly eight months after she was jailed for corruption. Sasikala's nephew T.T.V. Dhinakaran arrived this morning at the Bengaluru Central Prison with a group of supporters.

Her release on parole comes as a shot in the arm for Dhinakaran, who is trying to topple the present Tamil Nadu government headed by Edappadi K. Palaniswami who is working on an alliance with the breakaway AIADMK group led by former CM O. Panneerselvam. The ruling set up in TN had removed Sasikala and Dhinakaran from all party posts and named late CM J. Jayalalithaa "eternal General Secretary."

Sasikala

Sasikala had, on October 2, applied for 15-day parole. "The plea was rejected on technical grounds. The paperwork was not done properly due to which the application has been rejected," top sources in the government said. Authorities had then said she could apply once again. Natarajan underwent liver transplant at a Chennai hospital on Wednesday. He is in the liver intensive care unit of a corporate hospital over the last month following kidney and liver failure.

Sasikala, the closest aide of Jayalalithaa, lived with her at her upscale Poes Garden home in Chennai. Sasikala has been in jail since February after the Supreme Court upheld her conviction by a special court in a disproportionate assets case. Her relatives Ilavarasi and V.N. Sudhakaran are also serving four-year jail terms.

Haunted by anger, hunger

Every alternate week, if not day, the nation's people are informed through all forms of media that the country is heading towards prosperity in the years ahead. The sources in the administration and their supporters are optimistic about India crossing the bar at 16-trillion-dollar economy. However, figures of people in the masses without access to adequate food and nutrition, a clear index of hunger, don't find mention in official channels, may be because it happens to be a negative index, hurting optimism. The other factor, anger, bugging the nation's citizenry and its consequences are there for all to see and hear about, even as the world is watching. Verses in the second chapter of Bhagavad Gita provide an ancient but relevant (to this day) analysis of anger. As per one of the verses, from anger comes delusion, from delusion comes loss of memory, from loss of memory comes destruction of intellect and once the intellect is destroyed, the person perishes. From attachment is born desire and from desire is born anger. However, it may not go down well with most people if they are asked to introspect about desire, the precursor to anger.

Narratives in ancient writings such as Bhagvatha, credited to sage Vedavyasa, tell us about rishis themselves losing control over anger and hurling deadly curses on those who disturbed their peace, strange as it sounds because the advisory on eschewing anger was handed down by the sages themselves. Call it an irony of human conduct.

Given the understanding that the sections identified as Below Poverty Line in the population are primarily those bugged by hunger in different degrees, their proportion in the population is officially claimed to be declining, currently estimated as 22 percent or thereabouts, meaning the country is host to nearly 30 million hungry citizens. Quibbling with figures portraying the extent to which the nation is haunted by hunger seems to have masked the minds of those who matter in the administration. The second factor chosen for this column, namely anger doesn't seem to have fascinated anyone among the literati. More than assigning a figure, even a guestimate, for the proportion of angry people in the population, the society owes it to itself to get an insight to causes, ways to abate and prevent the sequence of outcome as mentioned in Bhagavad Gita mentioned earlier.

Hunger may or may not be addressed in the manner of holding the bull by its horns as it were, anger of the diaspora is heading, if not already headed, to unmanageable point. The top brass in administration needs to take on the gauntlet without delaying for even a day.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

If it's Navratri 'tis the season to be naughty. Young people who want to have fun have my blessings and young people who have enough sense to buy a condom and actually use it have that and my respect. That these kids are trying to prevent unwanted pregnancies and STDs is a positive sign, it is in fact a good marker for acche din. The tagline 'This Navratri, play, but with love' has offended the pious. The one I have zero empathy for, are the prudes — the people who think sex out of wedlock is the worst thing anyone can do. From what I have seen the whole of Navratri is the first time they have been left with the opposite gender after dark, there are no annoying adults breathing down their necks, and they have normally functioning hormones. The fact is that no matter where in the world you go kids are the same and there is nothing we can do about it because it's biology. Their bodies are telling them one thing while their parents and preachers are telling them another. And I do believe history has shown us that no matter how conservative and controlling one's parents and priests may be the body always wins.*— Radhika Vaz in The Times of India.

A Library style hotel

Lisbon: If you ever decide to visit the medieval village of Obidos, in Portugal, you needn't bother bringing a book to pass the time. Established in 2015, 'The Literary Man' has already become famous as the world's best hotel for book lovers. It features a constantly growing collection of literary works, most of which are written in English. Books can be found virtually everywhere inside The Literary Man, lining the walls of its massive lounge, on the bed stands of its 30 bedrooms, at the in-house gin bar, and even in its old wine cellar. The over 50,000 literary works cover a variety of genres, from novels and poetry to cookbooks. But what happens if you find a really good book and can't finish it until the end of your stay? You can always take it home with you, as most of the books at 'The Literary Man' are available for purchase, including some old, rare titles priced as high as $550. However, most visitors actually prefer to add to the hotel's collection instead of taking from it.

An appeal to Railways

Sir,

With the recent conversion of Chamarajanagar-Tirupathi-Chamarajanagar trains (16219 and 16220) from Fast Passenger to Express mode, we expected positive changes in service too, but there is none. Journey time remains the same post-conversion also and the number of halts enroute has'nt reduced either.

Added to this, unreserved passengers get into the reserved compartments in large numbers unabatedly and there is none to check it. I often have seen clashes between reserved and unreserved passengers over seat occupation. Only improvement (!) is the hike in fare owing to conversion. What kind of service is this?

Will the SWR initiate steps to at least ensure seat availability to reserved passengers in bogies exclusively meant for them?

Lightning kills six in Periyapatna

Last rites performed today ; Rs. 5 lakh compensation to victims' families

Sudeep

Periyapatna, Oct. 6 (Nagesh&NNN) -The six were all from the same village—Hunaswadi in Periyapatna taluk—aged between 16 and 60. However, their final destiny was inexplicably linked. All of them died in one stroke as lightning struck them yesterday afternoon when they were taking shelter in a temple following heavy rains.

The six unfortunate victims are Suvarnamma (40), wife of Suresh, Puttannaiah (60), Sudeep (16), son of Mahadeva, Umesh, son of Srinivasagowda, Sujay (21) son of Nataraj and Thimmegowda (60). The two who have been grievously injured are Lakkegowda's son 16-year-old Vishwanath and Kumar's son 12-year-old Madesh, who have been admitted to K.R. Hospital in Mysuru. Shantegowda's son Ganesh, 18, has been admitted to Brindavan Hospital in Mysuru.

A few residents of Hunswadi village, as part of their daily routine were grazing cattle in the neighbouring Nandinathapura's Venkateshwara Hatcheries' poultry farm. Yesterday too about 10 persons were grazing the cattle and sitting under a tree relaxing.

Around one pm, it suddenly started pouring accompanied by thunder and lightning. As the intensity of rains increased, all of them ran for cover to the nearby Doddamma Thayi temple.

The lightning suddenly struck and in no time three people lay dead and seven were seriously injured. The villagers admitted all of them to the nearby hospitals immediately. However, three more succumbed to the injuries after failing to respond to the treatment. The remaining four were given first aid and shifted to hospitals in Mysuru.

The grief of the families of the deceased was uncontrollable, as within the blink of an eye they had all lost their family members due to nature's fury. As the news spread, villagers from neighbouring villages gathered in large numbers in spite of heavy rain and seeing the relatives crying, tears streamed down their eyes, as they watched in shock at the passing away of the innocent people.

The final rites of all the six were performed this afternoon, according to the sources in the village.

Rs. 5 lakh compensation

The State Government has announced a compensation of Rs. 5 lakh each to the families of the six people who died due to lightning yesterday. This was announced by Tahsildar Mahesh who said that the injured will get proper treatment. He met the family of the victims and condoled the deaths.

MLA K. Venkatesh who also reached the spot said that the Government will release Rs. 4 lakh each and the remaining one lakh each will come from the Chief Minister's Relief Fund. He announced that he would personally give Rs. 10,000 each to the family members.

JD(S) State Secretary K. Mahadev visited and condoled the deaths and announced Rs. 5,000 each to the family members.

State Virginia Tobacco Growers Association President B.V. Javaregowda said that there were a few among the victims who were registered tobacco growers and they will be given Rs 50,000 relief each.

"I am a student of First PUC in Government PU Composite College in Kushalnagar. Since it was a holiday, my father asked me to go and graze cattle. It started raining heavily and we all rain for cover to the nearby temple. Lightning struck and I was immediately blanked out. I did not know what happened later. Both my legs are burning and I am not able to bear the pain."

—Injured victim, Vishwanath

"I am studying in sixth standard in Hunswadi Government School. Since, today was a holiday due to Valmiki Jayanti, I had gone to graze cattle. Suddenly it started pouring in the afternoon. About ten of us ran to take shelter in the temple. Within no time lightning struck. At this time a few of them standing behind me fell on top of me. I fell down and then I did not know what happened."

—Injured boy, 12-year-old Madesh

Four medicos killed

Mandya, Oct. 6 (Nagaiah& BCT)- Four medical college students including two women were killed on the spot when a speeding truck hit their car on the Mysuru-Bengaluru Highway this morning. All the students hailed from Rajarajeshwari Medical College, Ramanagaram and were returning to their college after a brief holiday in Mysuru.

The accident occurred on B.M. Road near Sangabasavanadoddi village at Ramanagaram when the speeding truck collided against a road divider and then hit the car. The impact of the accident was such that the truck jumped over the road divider and landed on the front portion of the car.

The victims are said to be from Kerala and have been identified as Joyed Jacob, Jeena, Divya and Nikhith. According to the Police, the group came to Mysuru two days back and were in the city for two days.

Yesterday was a holiday for their college on account of Valmiki Jayanthi.

Bidadi Police visited the spot and are investigating.

Two-wheeler lifter held: Three bikes worth about Rs. 1 lakh recovered

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (KS)- Saraswathipuram Police, on Oct. 4 took into custody a 26-year-old youth who tried to flee after seeing them near Javaregowda Park here.

The cops who took the youth along with a Hero Honda Splendor Plus bike he was riding, subjected him to interrogation during which the cops came to know that he had stolen two-wheelers following which the Police arrested him.

Based on the information provided by the accused the cops recovered a Hero Honda Splendor Plus bike, Bajaj CT 100 and a Suzuki Samurai bike all worth about Rs. 1 lakh from him.

DCP Dr. Vikram V. Amathe and KR Sub-Division ACP N.M. Dharmappa supervised Saraswathipuram Inspector N.C. Nagegowda, SI N. Mohan, ASI B.N. Kantharaju and staff Basavaraje Urs, B.S. Kantharaju, H.V. Manjunath, Ramaiah, Nagesh and Harish Achar in the nabbing and recovery operation.

Roads turn to rivers as heavy rains lash city

Mysuru, Oct.6 (YDS&NNN)- Even as some parts of the city experienced cloudy weather and a light drizzle, rains lashed the Central Business District and a few other parts turning roads into rivers and throwing normal life out of gear yesterday.

Heavy rains were predicted even during the last two days of Dasara celebrations. However, the rain gods were kind and the events went off very well with lakhs gathered to watch the world famous Dasara procession, returning home with very fond memories.

However, yesterday rains began around 3 pm, just as the shocking news of six people killed due to lightning in Periyapatna was making headlines. Trees were uprooted in a few parts of the city.

Trees were found uprooted on Mysuru-T. Narasipur Road and near Kurubarahalli Circle, on the road that leads to Chamundi Hill, where it fell on a car and completely damaged it. The other places where trees fell were in K.C. Layout, near KVC Hotel, near Sangeeta Corner in Siddhartha Layout and opposite the Mysuru Zoo.

In Saraswathipuram, a tree fell on an electric pole, which resulted in disruption of power supply. Luckily, no one has been injured. Traffic was disrupted in many places. However, Mysuru City Corporation's Abhaya team sprung into action and cleared the fallen trees in many places.

In a few places like Kuvempunagar and Chikkagadiyara (Dufferin Clock Tower), since there was no proper drainage facility for the rainwater to flow freely, the places resembled lakes with knee-deep water.

Water gushes into houses: In a few areas that included Vivekananda Nagar, Sriramapura, Madhuvana Layout, Manjunathapura, Kesare and Shanthinagar, rainwater entered a few houses and the residents had a tough time clearing the water.

Busy market areas like Devaraj Market, K.R. Market, Mandi Market and commercial centres like Makkaji Chowk and Gandhi Square, where there is high density of people and traffic, the water logging caused problems for the public to cross roads or drive their vehicles, as they had to be careful to avoid water-filled potholes.

Again, water was seen flowing like a river opposite Sri Jayachamarajendra College of Engineering near Manasagangothri campus, Hardinge Circle, Milk Diary Circle, Teresian College and near Vijaya Bank Circle in Kuvempunagar.

Power switched off: Since there was heavy rain yesterday afternoon, the Chamundeshwari Electric Supply Corporation (CESC) Limited had cut off power supply and as a result areas like Vidyaranyapuram, Mandi Mohalla, Ashoka Road, Rajkamal Theatre, Gayathripuram, Saraswathipuram, K.G. Koppal and a few other layouts were plunged in darkness till late night.

More rains likely

Mysuru, Oct.6 (RK&NNN)- This year, more than normal rains is predicted in the month of October, said sources in the Naganahalli Organic Farm Research Station. Last year because of shortage of rain, there was a drought-like situation. However, this year in the month of September there was heavy rains and in the coming days in October more rains are predicted, said the source.

On Wednesday, there was 15 mm of rain in around Mysuru and on Thursday also there was similar amount of rainfall, the same scene will continue for the next four to five days, the source said.

Ex-MP demolishes Siddharamaiah's claim as sole leader of Kurubas

It is against the law to ask voters not to vote for me, says Vishwanath

Mysuru, Oct. 6 - Former MP and JD(S) leader Adagooru H. Vishwanath lashed out at Chief Minister Siddharamaiah and questioned, "Who is Siddharamaiah to issue orders to Kuruba community voters not to support me? He is not a genuine Kuruba leader and he has no right to comment on a community as he has done nothing worthwhile though he enjoyed the spoils of power due to Kuruba votes."

Addressing a press conference at a private hotel here yesterday, he said that Siddharamaiah has power, money and a lot of ego. "But he does not have the common sense," he charged. "I am not an orphan and the CM must realise that I have a huge support base as I have done good work when I was a Minister," he claimed.

Mincing no words, Vishwanath said that in a meeting with voters of Hunsur Assembly constituency recently, the CM had made an open statement asking the Kuruba community people not to support me (Vishwanath).

"Is Siddharamaiah dictating terms to the Kuruba community? He has defamed the democratic system," Vishwanath said. "Let him ask the people not to vote for a particular party but he should not target any person and caste. Is he (Siddharamaiah) the 'Lord' of Kuruba community? No one should pass comments based on caste," Vishwanath added.

JD(S) leader A.H. Vishwanath is seen addressing the press meet at a private hotel in city yesterday as ZP Members Madegowda and Beerihundi Basavanna and former ZP Vice-President A.S. Channabasappa look on.

"The CM thinks that the elections are fought on caste and thus, he has asked Kuruba community people not to support me. I am neither a social nor an economical orphan." Vishwanath said he would work towards bringing the JD(S) back to power in the State next year.

The senior leader had fallen out with Siddharamaiah in recent months. Vishwanath said he was one of the people who brought Siddharamaiah into the Congress from JD(S) — a claim the Chief Minister denies.

"The CM is trying to divide the Kuruba, Lingayat and Dalit communities. He is trying to sideline Dalit leader and Karnataka Pradesh Congress Committee (KPCC) President Dr. G. Parameshwara by stating that the Congress party will face the election under the leadership of Siddharamaiah himself. Siddharamaiah is a migrant politician and he does not know the ideologies of the Congress party," Vishwanath said.

The former MP questioned: "I have contributed hugely to the development of Kuruba Mutts and have strived for the welfare of the community people. What has Siddharamaiah done?"

Describing Siddharamaiah as a kickback Chief Minister, Vishwanath said, "He (Siddharamaiah) gives funds and gets kickbacks in return. He is dreaming of continuing as CM by offering money to the Congress high command."

"The CM has been publicly announcing that he would contest from Chamundeshwari constituency. This is just to scare the present Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda. I am sure that Siddharamaiah will not even contest the upcoming 2018 elections," he said, mocking at Siddharamaiah.

"A series of schemes such as Anna Bhagya, Ksheera Bhagya and others were proposed by me and Health and Family Welfare Minister K.R. Ramesh Kumar. Siddharamaiah has just implemented them and has claimed credit," he said.

"As MLA, MP and Minister, I have implemented several pro-people works. What is the achievement of Siddharamaiah? In Karnataka, Siddharamaiah has become the Congress high command and unfortunately, the Congress leaders in New Delhi are too powerless to take action against Siddharamaiah," he observed.

Will former MP Vijayashankar quit BJP to rejoin Congress?

Mysuru, Oct. 6- Former Minister and MP C.H. Vijayashankar has hinted at quitting the BJP, the party he has been associated with for over two decades. He is likely to return to Congress which he had quit in 1990. If he calls it quits, it will be a blow to the BJP and would strengthen the hands of Chief Minister Siddharamaiah in his home district and even impact on A.H. Vishwanath's vote bank.

C.H. Vijayashankar

However, getting a wind of his move, some BJP leaders met him at his residence yesterday and tried to convince him to continue in the party. According to sources, Vijayashankar, who is the President of the BJP State Raitha Morcha has conveyed his displeasure to party State Chief B.S. Yeddyurappa. He has distanced himself from party activities for quite some time.

Rumours are also doing rounds that he has been invited by Chief Minister Siddharamaiah to join the Congress where he can fill the void created by the exit of former MP A.H. Vishwanath who joined JD(S).

Vijayashankar, who plunged into politics in 1980, was associated with the Congress party and was its Hunsur taluk youth wing President till 1990. He contested on a BJP ticket from Hunsur Assembly constituency in 1994 and emerged victorious. Later, he represented the Mysuru Lok Sabha constituency twice — from 1998 to 1999 and 2004 to 2009. He was MLC from June 2010 to January 2016.

He was the Forest Minister in Yeddyurappa's Cabinet. His desire to make it to Parliament for a third time was dashed by the surprise candidature of journalist Pratap Simha in the 2014 elections. That year, he was forced to contest from the Hassan Lok Sabha constituency, which he lost to former PM H.D. Deve Gowda.

Elevated as BJP State Vice-President he had served as a senior Vice-President of BJP and was nominated to the Legislative Council. This fetched him a Cabinet berth (Forest Minister) in Yeddyurappa government. However, he lost his Ministerial position following the resignation of Yeddyurappa.

Vijayashankar is an aspirant for the Assembly ticket from Periyapatna constituency for 2018 elections. He is, however, disappointed by the recent developments. S. Manjunath, an industrialist from Bengaluru, has opened an office at Periyapatna and is already involved in campaigning for the election, under the guise of social work with an army of supporters.

Manjunath has also been made a member of the BJP State Executive Committee and of late, there have been clashes between the supporters of Vijayashankar and Manjunath in Periyapatna.

Cerclage to manage Cervical Incompetence

Gouri, 34 years old, married for 8 years had eight pregnancy losses. Out of the eight pregnancy losses, four losses were in the first part of pregnancy and four losses were between fourth – seventh months of pregnancy. Looking at her previous history, where she had had pregnancy losses between 3–7 months, a decision was taken to do a trans-abdominal cervical cerclage – a stitch placed at the level of internal os or around the cervix through the abdominal route. She conceived again and this was her 9th pregnancy. The abdominal cerclage was still in place. The patient was started on Low Molecular Weight Heparin (LMWH) right from the time that the pregnancy was confirmed to be situated inside the uterus. She was also found to be mild diabetic. At 32 weeks a Doppler showed a falling resistance in middle cerebral artery with uncontrolled hypertension. The patient was taken for Elective LSCS and delivered a male baby weighing 1.65 kgs.

Dr. Devika Gunasheela

Cervical incompetence is a medical condition in which the neck of the womb (cervix) in a pregnant woman begins to open and thin out much before the date that the baby is due to be born. Cervical incompetence may cause miscarriage or preterm birth during the second and third parts of the pregnancy. Cervical incompetence occurs because of weakness of the cervix.

Risk Factors: History of previous pregnancies ending in abortions in the second & early third trimester (i.e., between 13 – 30 weeks of pregnancy), any operations on the neck of the womb and repeated abortions where the pregnancy has taken out surgically.

Treatment: Once the problem of incompetence is diagnosed, the condition may be treatable through a surgical procedure called cerclage (stitching the cervix closed). One or more stitches are placed around or through the cervix to keep it tightly closed. This is usually performed after the twelfth week of pregnancy, the time after which a woman is least likely to miscarry for other reasons - but it is not done if there is rupture of the membranes or infection.

When our Mahouts stumped intl. audience at Indonesia

By M.T. Yogesh Kumar

Two Mahouts, one each from Mysuru and Kodagu, have left an ever-lasting impression in Indonesia with their elephantine knowledge about elephants, their behaviour and overall well-being. The Mahouts were sent by the Forest Department to Indonesia after being requested by Indonesian Mahout Communications Forum, FOKMAS. FOKMAS bore their air fare and other expenses.

It was first for the Forest Department that their two Mahouts J.N. Vasantha of Mathigodu Elephant Camp (Hunsur division) and Nayaz Pasha from Dubare elephant camp (Madikeri division) were invited for the workshop that was held at Lampung province in Sumatra, Indonesia from May 11 to 19 this year. This year's Indonesian Mahout Workshop was supported by Asian Elephant Support (AES) and it was unique as it brought together two groups of Mahouts from different countries that are supported by AES. The Mahouts were guided by Dr. Mamatha Sathyanarayana, Assistant Professor, De Paul International School, Mysuru.

AES recognised Mamatha's tireless work to provide educational opportunities for Mahouts and had requested the Karnataka Forest Department to send its Mahouts to attend the workshop. It was a wonderful opportunity for the two cultures to share information and their experiences on elephant care.

ABOUT FOKMAS

The Indonesian Mahout Workshops were initiated in 2006 at the Seblat Government Elephant Conservation Centre, Bengkulu province in Sumatra. FOKMAS was also established in 2006 and its goal is to improve communications and provide ongoing training via various modules at such workshops. These workshops are supported by the Indonesian government and various NGOs, including AES. The workshop provides meaningful data for wildlife conservation, habitat protection efforts and the methods to improve the care of captive elephants.

There were presentations on various topics followed by hands-on demonstrations. The demonstrations included GPS training, the use of an ultrasound, footwork, obtaining field measurements to estimate the weight of an elephant, and actually weighing the elephants on a portable scale.

INFORMATION EXCHANGE

The workshop provided an opportunity for Mahouts to share information, strengthen their professionalism, and influence elephant conservation more effectively. General issues discussed during the workshop included problems Mahouts encounter in their elephant work and habitat conservation efforts, finding solutions to improve the care and management of wild and captive elephants and means to create an information network with Mahouts throughout Asia.

This year's workshop was attended by over 60 Mahouts drawn from various wildlife sanctuaries across Asia. Vasantha and Nayaz Pasha reached Jakarta on May 11 and reached Lampung that is an hour's journey from Jakarta. From there, they proceeded towards Way Kambas National Park covering 1,300 square kilometres in Lampung province, southern Sumatra. The extent of this National Park equals Bandipur Tiger Reserve and National Park in Karnataka.

The Mahouts stayed at the Way Kambas National Park for two days where they were taken to Tegal Yoso elephant response unit. Later, they proceeded towards Lembah Hijau Zoo. A wide range of topics including the overall health, feeding strategies, the use of an ultrasound machine, use of GPS units and software updating skills, and incorporating technology into their operations were discussed at the workshop.

INDIA'S TRYST WITH ELEPHANTS

As India has such a long and intricate history with elephants dating back to epics of Ramayana and Mahabharata, Nayaz Pasha and Vasantha were surprised to learn that the elephant tradition in Indonesia is only about 30 years old.

Even with a much shorter history with elephants, Indonesian Mahouts provided valuable information on the importance of the use of technology and the proper usage of tools to care for elephants. Special elephant trainers from USA and Germany also participated as resource persons at the workshop.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Vasantha said that there were over 60 Mahouts and they were able to exchange ideas. "Language was not a barrier and we explained native tricks like applying oil on the elephant's forehead and legs to keep them cool and composed. We stunned the vets there when we visually determined that an elephant had never conceived," he said.

"We also taught the Indonesian Mahouts the importance of proper feeding strategies, allowing elephants to roam freely in the forest, and the importance of cleaning the tusks. There was also a lot of discussion on caring for baby elephants," Vasantha added.

This workshop was an excellent example of how important it is to provide these types of educational opportunities. "This has renewed our energy to support the people who care for elephant throughout Asia. Both Vasantha and Nayaz Pasha impressed the other Mahouts with their native knowledge of elephant caretaking," claimed Dr. Mamatha Sathyanarayana.

Detecting elephant pregnancy: Mahout's expert hands do the trick

At the workshop, there was a session to detect if an elephant was pregnant. The programme was to guide the Mahouts to use an ultra-sound machine to determine if it is pregnant and the months that have passed in pregnancy. Accordingly, the date of delivery was to be determined.

Just before the session started, Nayaz Pasha from Dubare Elephant Camp felt the stomach of the female elephant. Precisely touching certain parts of the stomach, he declared that the elephant was not pregnant.

Despite Nayaz Pasha's observations, veterinarian Christopher decided to go ahead with the ultrasound test. The elephant's waste was emptied from its rear using a pipe and the ultrasound machine was inserted. After about half-an-hour of tests, the veterinarian declared that the elephant was not pregnant and it was Nayaz Pasha's turn to have a last laugh.

Veterinarian Christopher later appreciated Pasha for his innate knowledge. "You touched the elephant and said it was not pregnant while we said the same thing using machines. I am surprised by your knowledge and I feel that all Mahouts must develop such knowledge," he told Pasha.

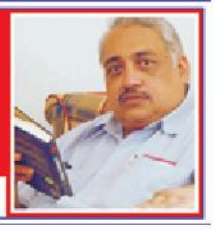
Over a cup of evening Tea



By Dr. K. Javeed Nayeem, MD

Life before the 'Touch Screen' Era

Last night I happened to attend a CME. Now, this acronym which may seem a little unknown to most people, stands for 'Continuing Medical Education' and it denotes an educational activity that involves lectures, seminars or workshops which give doctors an opportunity to refresh and update their knowledge in their respective fields of practice. CMEs are therefore a very good means of ensuring that practicing doctors remain up-to-date in their knowledge which in turn ensures that patients get the best treatment in their hands. To ensure this, the Medical Council of India has now made attending a certain number of CMEs in a year mandatory for all doctors before they can get their practicing licences renewed.

This is a very good stipulation as otherwise there was no other way of ensuring that all doctors, beyond the few with an enduring academic bent of mind, would be armed with the latest knowledge of medicine. And, medicine is one of the scientific fields where knowledge and technology are growing at a dizzyingly rapid pace. What we doctors read in our textbooks and what we admire as the latest means of diagnosis and treatment are already on the way to becoming stale even as they reach us.

At yesterday's CME my friend and the chief guest, Dr. B. Krishnamurthy who retired just last month as the Dean and Director of the Mysore Medical College and Research Institute, while addressing the gathering, remarked that we were all now in the 'Era of Touch' where just by a mere touch of the smart screen we can do almost anything and everything that we wish to do and get in touch with anyone in any part of the world, which was indeed a very remarkable achievement. This remark generated a good amount of discussion after the academic session wherein a few very young doctors and post-graduate students seemed wonderstruck over how cumbersome things might have been before phones and screens became smart. Surprisingly, this was not very long ago but some of them were so young that the only mobile phones they had first started using as teenagers were smart ones! I told them a little about the kind of primitive telephony that we had until just a few years before they were born but did not elaborate because it was pretty late and I had to get back home, a necessity for which science has not yet found an alternative! But this morning I decided that a brief update for all members of their generation about how the scene was in our country before we opened our doors for global investment, enterprise and technology to march in would be in order.

I think the fastest growth that took place in our country at that time was in the telecommunication sector. There was a time in the early seventies when BSNL was the boss and getting a telephone connection would entail a wait of nearly ten years after paying the stipulated fee and registering your application. If you were a big shot in a hurry who would not mind paying many times more than the stipulated fee you could ask for preferential treatment under the 'Tatkal Scheme' or another weird scheme called 'Own your Phone' where you would almost end up paying the entire cost of manufacturing not only your telephone but all the wires and telephone poles too that were required to bring it to your doorstep! Getting a telephone connection was only half the problem. Getting your call through within a time frame when it would be of some use to you was the tougher part. Before the rotary dial arrived on the scene you had to pick up the receiver and ask the operator to connect you to the number you wanted. For trunk calls you had to ask for or dial 180 and book a call and wait patiently for it to 'materialise', the magical word for a successful connection!

For any information regarding any delays you had to contact 181 and these enquiries would be entertained only after an hour for normal calls and half an hour for urgent calls which would be charged double the normal rates. All 'un-materialised' calls would automatically get cancelled in just 24 hours! Even if your calls did materialise there was no guarantee that the speech would be clear. So a trunk call, true to its name, often involved much screaming, bellowing and trumpeting like angry elephants! In case of a life or death emergency if you had the means to pay for it you could book a 'Lightning Call' which would be charged an astounding eighteen times the normal rate although it was only the charge and not the connecting time for which the word 'lightning' seemed to have any meaning!

Considering the difficulty in getting a telephone connection not many people had their own telephones and so when you had to speak to a friend or relative who did not have one you had to book a 'Particular Person' or 'PP Call' when the operator would ask for that particular person and connect the call after ensuring that he or she was at the other end. That was therefore the time when most people would cultivate and nurture good relationships with all their next door neighbours who happened to have telephones! The telephone directory for the entire state of Karnataka was in one volume leaving aside Bangalore City which had its own matching sibling of similar size. I have still preserved these two 'Aadi Granths' in my collection of books which is ageing with me.

Direct dialling or Subscriber Trunk Dialling more commonly known as STD arrived on the scene in our state only in the early seventies. I first experienced the delight of calling up my home in Mysore from Hubli without the help of an operator in the year 1973. Strangely our own Mysore got its out-going STD facility much later. The STD code for Bangalore then was 0812 and it was later changed to 080. International calls with the direct dialling facility now known as ISD came only in the late eighties. Until then if you booked an overseas call, before processing your request the operator would call you back to ensure that you really booked the call because it was an expensive affair. For some very strange reason, for all international calls you had to also tell the operator in advance the language you would be conversing in. I wonder if this was to ensure that an operator fluent in that language could be assigned to not only oversee your call but also overhear your conversation in the interests of national safety!

Natl. Workshop on Multidisciplinary Research inaugurated

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (RK&NNN)- Prof. H. M. Maheswaraiah, Vice-Chancellor, Central University of Karnataka, Gulbarga, said that Interdisciplinary Research or multidisciplinary and Transdisciplinary research is a mode of research, which involves more than one academic disciplines.

He was speaking after inaugurating the National Workshop on 'Multidisciplinary Research,' organised by the Institute of Development Studies (IDS), Bahadur Institute of Management Sciences (BIMS) Department of Public Administration and All India Researchers Association, here this morning at the BIMS auditorium by watering a sapling.

Stressing on the importance of interdisciplinary knowledge and researchers, he said that immigrants often make important contribution to their new field.

Regrets non-appointment of permanent VC

Before the inaugural address, Prof. Maheswaraiah regretted that the century-old University of Mysore did not have a permanent Vice-Chancellor even nine months after previous Vice-Chancellor Prof. K.S. Rangappa demitted office.

An alumnus of the University of Mysore, he said that it was unfortunate that a suitable candidate has still not been found to head the University.

"I am very upset that a renowned University like this, which is known all over the world is functioning without a permanent VC for the last nine months. It is high time that the State Government and the Governor should take a decision and appoint a Vice-Chancellor immediately," he said.

An in-charge Vice-Chancellor cannot take important decisions as his hands are tied. As a result, the development of the University suffers, Prof. Maheswaraiah observed.

"The University celebrated its centenary last year and the year-long celebrations with the President, Prime Minister and the Vice-President attending it was indeed a great achievement. It also has many departments. However, to see it in such a sorry state immediately after the centenary celebrations pains me a lot," said Prof. Maheswaraiah in an anguished voice. He once again urged the State Government to appoint a full-time Vice-Chancellor at the earliest.

University of Mysore Acting VC Prof. Dayanand Mane presided. Registrar D. Bharathi, Registrar (Evaluation) Prof. J.Somashekar, Finance Officer Prof. B. Mahadevappa, IDS' Prof. Kushal Bargoor and others were present.

Indian Institute of Science former Director Prof. P. Balram gave a power point presentation on Multi-disciplinary Research.

Nearly 125 research scholars out of whom nearly 30 from different parts of the country are participating in the three-day workshop.

MLA GTD takes dig at CM Siddu

Says ready to take on CM in Chamundeshwari Constituency

MLA G.T. Devegowda seen addressing media persons in city this morning as MLA Sa.Ra. Mahesh and former MP A.H. Vishwanath look on.

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (RKB&VNS)- "There is no question of my ever joining Congress party. There is absolutely no truth in the reports that ahead of the ensuing 2018 Assembly elections I would join Congress party. It is an utter lie and a tendentious, mischievous report spread by the Congress afraid of my strength in Chamundeshwari Constituency," said MLA G.T. Devegowda.

Addressing press persons at a private hotel in city this morning, G.T. Devegowda accused CM Siddharamaiah of spreading false rumours of him joining the Congress and added that he was firm at contesting on a JD(S) ticket from Chamundeshwari.

He also said that the Congress leaders headed by Siddharamaiah were wooing a few JD(S) leaders including MLAs to join Congress. He clarified that none of the Congress leaders had invited him to join the party till date.

Stating that H.D. Deve Gowda was his national leader and H.D. Kumaraswamy his State leader, the MLA said that elected JD(S) representatives would strive hard to defeat the Congress.

Devegowda also mentioned that the Kuruba community was upset with Siddharamaiah for not making Beerihundi Basavanna as the Mysuru ZP President.

Accusing Siddharamaiah of using former Minister A.H. Vishwanath to connect with Congress President Sonia Gandhi, Devegowda said that the CM had neglected Vishwanath by not visiting him even once when he was hospitalised.

Stating that Chamundeshwari Constituency was JD(S) fortress, Devegowda questioned CM's contribution in the development of Chamumdeshwari and Varuna constituencies. He also asked the CM to bring out a White Paper with respect to development works in both constituencies.

Former Minister A.H. Vishwanath said that he was ready to fight against any Congress leader.

Questioning Siddharamaiah's contribution to Kuruba community, he said that CM had only been misleading the community and added that development works in industrial and education sectors had come to a standstill under Siddharamaiah's rule.

MLA Sa.Ra. Mahesh, Mayor M.J. Ravikumar, JD(S) District President Narasimhaswamy, Taluk Panchayat President Kalamma Kemparamaiah and others were present.

Woman dies mysteriously;

parents allege dowry harassment

Thejaswini

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (RK&BCT)- A housewife from Rangaianakoppalu near Mysuru died under mysterious circumstances this morning. She was married eleven months ago and her parents have alleged that she has been murdered by her husband for dowry. A case has been registered at Jayalakshmipuram Police Station.

The housewife has been identified as Thejaswini from H.D. Kote Taluk and she was married to Raghavendra from Rangaianakoppalu. Raghavendra had brought Thejaswini to a private hospital on Kalidasa Road this morning and told the doctors that his wife slipped and fell and had lost consciousness. Valmiki Jayanti at Kalamandira

MLA seeks ST certificate to Nayaka community members

Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda is seen inaugurating the stage programme of Valmiki Jayanti at Kalamandira yesterday as MLAs M.K. Somashekar and Vasu, Deputy Commissioner D. Randeep, Mayor M.J. Ravikumar, Deputy Mayor Rathna Lakshman, ZP President Nayeema Sulthana, former ZP President Dr. Pushpa Amarnath, Karnataka Zoo Authority Chairperson Mallige Veeresh and others look on.

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (SP&BCT)- The birth anniversary of Adi Kavi Valmiki, revered as the first poet of Sanskrit literature, was celebrated in city yesterday.

Valmiki was a great sage and author of the epic Ramayana which consists of 24,000 verses and 7 cantos (Kandas). Though it is difficult to define the exact timings of his birth, it is celebrated on Ashwin Poornima as per Hindu lunar calendar.

At a stage programme in Kalamandira after a colourful procession, Chamundeshwari MLA G.T. Devegowda said that the government must take steps to distribute Scheduled Tribe (ST) certificates to the members of Nayaka community. "This way, we can stop the harassment meted out to the community," he opined.

"Nayaka community members are being harassed as they do not have valid Scheduled Tribe certificates and this has caused a lot of heartburn among the community members. The Deputy Commissioner must order all the officers to issue such certificates to the community members," he said.

Recalling the contributions of former Chief Ministers D. Devaraj Urs and H.D. Deve Gowda (also a former PM) to the welfare of Nayaka community, GTD said that with their efforts, there has been a social revolution where Nayakas got recognition. "As a result of their efforts, there are 15 MLAs and 2 MPs from the Nayaka community," he said.

When H.D. Kumaraswamy was the Chief Minister, he set up an exclusive Karnataka Maharshi Valmiki Scheduled Tribes Development Corporation Limited and sanctioned land for Valmiki Gurupeetha at Rajanahalli, he said. He added that Kumaraswamy had also ordered all Government Departments to reserve 23 percent grants for the Nayaka community.

The Russian-manufactured Mi-17 V5 helicopter was carrying supplies to a forward post of the Indian Army in the mountainous region. "A court of inquiry has been ordered to ascertain the cause of the accident," said the sources.

The crash comes two days ahead of Air Force Day on Oct. 8. "Our losses are a cause of concern. We are making concerted efforts to minimise accidents and preserve our assets," Air Chief Marshal B.S. Dhanoa had said, referring to a string of crashes of IAF choppers and military jets in recent years.

City BJP protests against sub-standard road works

Ramdas

Mysuru, Oct. 6 (RKB&VNS)- City BJP activists headed by former Minister S.A. Ramdas held a massive protest against the State Government and MCC accusing both for carrying out sub-standard works in city.

About 800 BJP activists launched the protest this morning from the JSS Vidypeeta Circle by planting saplings in potholes till Sewage Farm at Vidyaranyapuram.

They alleged that Rs. 100 crore released at the time when BJP was in power had been misused by carrying out sub-standard works and added that out of Rs. 10 crore released for development of roads from JSS Mahavidyapeeta till Sewage Farm passing through Vidyaranyapuram main road during 2012-13 coming under MCC Wards 1,4,5,6,10 and 11, only Rs. 5.90 cr was utilised and there was no account for the remaining Rs. 4.10 crore

The BJP leaders demanded for reconstruction of Raja Kaluve, clearing encroachments on Raja Kaluve, construction of storm water drains, repairing potholes among others.

They also demanded compensation under natural calamities for those having suffered losses during the recent rains.

Resolve KSOU row soon, AAP tells State and Centre

Mysuru, Oct. 6 - Expressing concern over the future of lakhs of students who had taken courses from the Karnataka State Open University (KSOU), the Aam Aadmi Party (AAP) district unit has urged both the State and Union Governments to find a solution to the problem immediately.

"Aam Aadmi Party will stage a protest condemning the apathy of both the governments over the future of the KSOU students," said district convener of the party, Seetharam Gundappa.

He was addressing a press conference at Patrakarthara Bhavan yesterday. The University Grants Commission (UGC) has not renewed KSOU's accreditation citing several anomalies in the Open University. As a result, the future of many students at the KSOU is in doldrums.

Alleging that it was the former Vice-Chancellors of KSOU (Prof. K.S. Rangappa and Prof. M.G. Krishnan) who were the real culprits in the whole mess, Seetharam Gundappa said. "But both the former VCs are in a safe position and one has even entered politics while poor students are paying the price. Future of lakhs of students is now uncertain," he added.

Gundappa said that CM Siddharamaiah and Higher Education Minister Basavaraj Rayareddy were issuing contradictory remarks on the issue. "There is no co-ordination between the State Higher Education Department and the Union Human Resource Development Ministry. UGC is clueless on the future course of action," he said.

Gundappa said that AAP was trying to bring all affected students together to put pressure on the State and Centre to resolve the issue. "Innocent students are being punished by the cancellation of UGC accreditation," he said

Though former VCs are responsible for this, many corrupt officials are being shielded," he said and asked the students to email their problems to aapmysoreksoustudents@gmail.com

WORD OF THE DAY

Vituperate

Meaning: To criticise or censure severely or abusively.

Examples: "Hang on, let me tell you a story: Years ago, I had a co-worker who knew I enjoyed golf and who decided that he would vituperate golf. 'It's so boring, it's such a waste of time. Who in his right mind would want to play golf?'" — Jay Nordlinger, The National Review, 17 Apr. 2017

"Lenin on the Train ... is the latest entry in a vast literature dedicated to answering the question of just how was it that this pointy-bearded intellectual, who spent much of his life in libraries, and whose primary pastime was vituperating against fellow socialists in obscure journals, achieved so much—and at such a drastic human cost." — Daniel Kalder, The Dallas Morning News, 16 Apr. 2017

Origin: Vituperate has several close synonyms, including berate and revile. Berate usually refers to scolding that is abusive. Revile means to attack in a way prompted by anger or hatred. Vituperate can be used as a transitive or intransitive verb and adds to the meaning of revile by stressing an attack that is particularly harsh or unrelenting. It first appeared in English in the mid-16th century and can be traced back to two Latin words: the noun vitium, meaning "fault," and the verb parare, meaning "to make or prepare."

THE ODD WORD

Palpebration

Winking.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

Lions led by donkeys

Meaning: A description of the British soldiers of WWI.

Origin: It is popularly thought that the British infantry of WWI (the lions) were consistently sent to their deaths by their incompetent and out-of-touch generals (the donkeys).

The British politician Alan Clark alluded to this when he wrote a history of the war titled The Donkeys. In that he attributed coinage of the phrase to the German soldier Max Hoffmann. The source hasn't been confirmed by others and, in any case, there is a close variant of the phrase which is much earlier. Francisque Sarcey, in Paris During The Siege, 1871, wrote that the French troops who had been defeated by the Prussians:

"Unceasingly had drummed into them the utterance of The Times: 'You are lions led by packasses.'"
